

Friends of Fondation de France, Inc.

Friends of Fondation de France wants to thank The Sweet Stuff Foundation and all their donors for their contributions to Fondation de France's 'Give for France' program, which is dedicated to support organizations addressing the needs of the victims of the attacks and their families and healing from terrorism and radicalization, through educational programs and citizenship initiatives.

Following the November 13, 2015 terrorist attacks in Paris and its suburbs, around 4,000 victims have been identified.

We want you to know that thanks to your generous donations, Fondation de France has already started to help victims who are not supported by the French national fund for victims of terrorist attacks. This support is essential for those who have not yet recovered and cannot yet return to normal life. Help will be provided for at least two years and will finance psychological support, financial assistance, legal support, but also social assistance and emergency aid for those who lost their income.
